

BITNER VINEYARDS

2022 DRY ROSE

Merlot

Estate Vineyard - Snake River Valley, Idaho
The Worker Bee Collection

The 4th vintage of Bitner Vineyards Worker Bee Collection - Dry Rose 2022 - Bumble Bee. Idaho artist Felicia Weston illustrates the American Bumble Bee, which is the largest and gentlest of bees—and a pollination champ! Bumble Bees are vital pollinators that make a substantial contribution to the food that we eat — as well as our overall global economy.

The decline of bumblebees has drawn increased study and concern from scientists as the species' range continues to diminish from the effects of climate change. Here is to the Queen of Bees!

Tasting Notes

Made from Merlot, this delightful Rose offers delicate aromas of white peach and citrus blossom with fresh strawberry and grapefruit on the palate. The bright, vibrant flavors linger on the finish.

Wine Makers: James Nederend & Martin Fujishin

Varietal: Merlot

Vineyard: Bitner Vineyards

Appellation: Snake River Valley, Idaho

Alcohol: 13.2%

Residual Sugar: 0%

Production: 46 cases

Price: $29 / Member $24.65

Perfect Pairings

Served chilled, this versatile, medium-bodied dry rosé is a lively companion to charcuterie platters, vegetable terrines, chicken with mango salsa, and grilled corn on the cob with goat cheese and paprika.

Pollinator Partnership (www.pollinator.org) has a wealth of information and resources to help protect, preserve, and promote bees and other pollinators.